

A 2024 Girl Scout Gold Award project: meet-the-greens.org

CONFLICT RESOLUTION PACKET

Emergent Readers Script for 3	p. 2-4
Emergent Readers Script for 5	p. 5-7
Emergent Readers Script for 6	p. 8-10
Advanced Readers Script for 3	p. 11-13
Advanced Readers Script for 5	p. 14-16
Advanced Readers Script for 6	p. 17-19
Activity Sheet	p. 20

MEET THE GREENS: Conflict Resolution!

EMERGENT READERS ~ 3 Students

Parts:

GRANDPA (OR GRANDMA) GREEN

KID 1

KID 2

Reading the Play:

KID 1: Is that my reading book?

KID 2: No. It is my book!

KID 1: Where is my book?

KID 2: I will help you look.

KID 1: Is it on the table?

KID 2: No.

KID 1: Is it under the table?

KID 2: Maybe. (Kids look under the table.)

GRANDPA GREEN: Hello!

KID 1: Hey!

KID 2: You are a Green!

GRANDPA GREEN: Yes! I am GRANDPA GREEN! (shakes each kid's hand)

KID 1: Why are you here?

KID 2: Why are you under the reading table?

GRANDPA GREEN: I am reading a book!

KID 1: Is it my book?

KID 2: No, it is not your book.

GRANDPA GREEN: This is a friend's book. "E – D." It is Ed's book.

KID 2: I will give Ed his book!

KID 1: No, I will give Ed his book!

GRANDPA GREEN: Can you both give Ed his book?

KID 1: No! I will do it!

KID 2: No! I will do it!

KID 1: I will!

KID 2: No, I will!

GRANDPA GREEN: Hmm. We have a conflict.

KID 2: What is a conflict?

GRANDPA GREEN: A conflict is when we do not agree.

KID 1: Hmm.

GRANDPA GREEN: It is good to end a conflict.

KID 2: How do we end a conflict?

GRANDPA GREEN: First, we listen.

KID 1: I will give Ed the book!

KID 2: No, I will give Ed the book!

GRANDPA GREEN: You both want to help Ed.

KID 1: Yes!

KID 2: Yes!

GRANDPA GREEN: Next, we think how to end the conflict.

KID 1: I give Ed his book. You go with me?

KID 2: I give Ed his book. You read to Grandpa Green?

KID 1: Yes! I like that! I will read to Grandpa Green.

GRANDPA GREEN: Good job! You ended the conflict! (shakes each kid's hand)

KID 1: Thank you, Grandpa Green!

KID 2: You are smart!

GRANDPA GREEN: It is smart to end the conflict.

KID 1: Oh!

KID 2: What?

GRANDPA GREEN: You found your book!

KID 1: Yes! I sat on my book!

KID 2: Now, you can read too.

GRANDPA GREEN: It is good to read good books!

MEET THE GREENS: Conflict Resolution!

EMERGENT READERS ~ 5 Students

Parts:

GRANDPA (OR GRANDMA) GREEN

KID 1

KID 2

KID 3

KID 4

Reading the Play:

KID 1: Is that my reading book?

KID 2: No. It is my book!

KID 1: Where is my book?

KID 3: We will help you look.

KID 4: Is it on the table?

KID 2: No.

KID 3: Is it under the table?

KID 4: Maybe. (Kids look under the table.)

GRANDPA GREEN: Hello!

KID 1: Hey!

KID 2: You are a Green!

GRANDPA GREEN: Yes! I am GRANDPA GREEN! (shakes each kid's hand)

KID 3: Why are you here?

KID 4: Why are you under the reading table?

GRANDPA GREEN: I am reading a book!

KID 1: Is it my book?

KID 2: No, it is not your book.

GRANDPA GREEN: This is a friend's book. "E – D." It is Ed's book.

KID 3: I will give Ed his book!

KID 4: No, I will give Ed his book!

GRANDPA GREEN: Can you both give Ed his book?

KID 3: No! I will do it!

KID 4: No! I will do it!

KID 1: I will do it!

KID 2: No, I will do it!

GRANDPA GREEN: Hmm. We have a conflict.

KID 1: What is a conflict?

GRANDPA GREEN: A conflict is when we do not agree.

KID 2: Hmm.

GRANDPA GREEN: It is good to end a conflict.

KID 3: How do we end a conflict?

GRANDPA GREEN: First, we listen.

KID 4: I will give Ed the book!

KID 1: No, I will give Ed the book!

GRANDPA GREEN: You want to help Ed.

KID 2: Yes!

KID 3: Yes!

GRANDPA GREEN: Next, we think how to end the conflict.

KID 4: I give Ed his book. You all can go with me?

KID 3: I give Ed his book. You all read to Grandpa Green?

KID 1: Yes! We like that. We will read to Grandpa Green.

GRANDPA GREEN: Good job! You ended the conflict! (shakes each kid's hand)

KID 4: Thank you, Grandpa Green!

KID 2: You are smart!

GRANDPA GREEN: It is smart to end the conflict.

KID 1: Oh!

KID 2: What?

GRANDPA GREEN: You found your book!

KID 1: Yes! I sat on my book!

KID 3: Now, you can read too.

KID 4: We can all read!

GRANDPA GREEN: It is good to read good books!

MEET THE GREENS: Conflict Resolution!

EMERGENT READERS ~ 6 Students

Parts:

GRANDPA (OR GRANDMA) GREEN

KID 1

KID 2

KID 3

KID 4

KID 5

Reading the Play:

KID 1: Is that my reading book?

KID 2: No. It is my book!

KID 1: Where is my book?

KID 3: We will help you look.

KID 4: Is it on the table?

KID 5: No.

KID 2: I do not see it!

KID 3: Is it under the table?

KID 4: Maybe. (Kids look under the table.)

GRANDPA GREEN: Hello!

KID 5: Hey!

KID 1: You are a Green!

GRANDPA GREEN: Yes! I am GRANDPA GREEN! (shakes each kid's hand)

KID 2: I am glad to meet you!

KID 3: Why are you here?

KID 4: Why are you under the reading table?

GRANDPA GREEN: I am reading a book!

KID 1: Is it my book?

KID 5: No, it is not your book.

GRANDPA GREEN: This is a friend's book. "E – D." It is Ed's book.

KID 2: I will give Ed his book!

KID 3: No, I will give Ed his book!

KID 4: No, I will give Ed his book!

GRANDPA GREEN: Can you all give Ed his book?

KID 5: No! I will do it!

KID 1: No! I will do it!

KID 2: I will do it!

KID 3: No, I will do it!

GRANDPA GREEN: Hmm. We have a conflict.

KID 4: What is a conflict?

GRANDPA GREEN: A conflict is when we do not agree.

KID 5: Hmm.

GRANDPA GREEN: It is good to end a conflict.

KID 3: How do we end a conflict?

GRANDPA GREEN: First, we listen.

KID 4: I will give Ed the book!

KID 1: No, I will give Ed the book!

GRANDPA GREEN: You want to help Ed.

KID 2: Yes!

KID 5: Yes!

GRANDPA GREEN: Next, we think how to end the conflict.

KID 4: I give Ed his book. You all can go with me?

KID 3: I give Ed his book. You all read to Grandpa Green?

KID 1: Yes! We like that. We will read to Grandpa Green.

GRANDPA GREEN: Good job! You ended the conflict! (shakes each kid's hand)

KID 5: Thank you, Grandpa Green!

KID 2: You are smart!

GRANDPA GREEN: It is smart to end the conflict.

KID 1: Oh!

KID 5: You found your book!

KID 1: Yes! I sat on my book!

KID 3: Now, you can read too.

KID 4: We can all read!

GRANDPA GREEN: It is good to read good books!

MEET THE GREENS: Conflict Resolution!

ADVANCED READERS ~ 3 Students

Parts:

GRANDPA (OR GRANDMA) GREEN

KID 1

KID 2

Reading the Play:

KID 1: Where is my reading book?

KID 2: I do not know. I have not seen it.

KID 1: I wonder where it is.

KID 2: I will help you look around the classroom.

KID 1: Is it on the reading table?

KID 2: No, it is not.

KID 1: Is it under the reading table?

KID 2: Maybe you dropped it. (Kids look under the table.)

GRANDPA GREEN: Hello!

KID 1: Hey! You are ALL GREEN!

KID 2: You are part of the Green Family!

GRANDPA GREEN: Yes! I am GRANDPA GREEN! (shakes each kid's hand)

KID 1: Why are you in the classroom?

KID 2: Why are you under the reading table?

GRANDPA GREEN: I am reading a good book!

KID 1: Is it my book?

KID 2: No, it is someone else's book. It is our friend Ed's book.

GRANDPA GREEN: Yes. See? "E – D." This book is Ed's book.

KID 2: I will give Ed his book!

KID 1: No, I will give Ed his book!

GRANDPA GREEN: Can you both give Ed his book together?

KID 1: No! I want to do it!

KID 2: No! I want to do it!

KID 1: I was first!

KID 2: That is not fair!

GRANDPA GREEN: Hmm. We have a conflict.

KID 2: What is a conflict?

GRANDPA GREEN: A conflict happens when we do not agree.

KID 1: We do not agree. That is true.

GRANDPA GREEN: It is good to end a conflict.

KID 2: How do we end a conflict?

GRANDPA GREEN: First, we listen to each other. What do you think?

KID 1: I want to give Ed the book.

KID 2: No, I want to give Ed the book.

GRANDPA GREEN: You both want to help Ed.

KID 1: Yes! I do want to help.

KID 2: Yes! I do want to help, too.

GRANDPA GREEN: Good. But, we need to think how we can end the conflict.

KID 1: I will give Ed his book. But you come with me?

KID 2: I give Ed his book. You stay here and read to Grandpa Green?

KID 1: Yes! I like that! That is fun. I will stay here and read to Grandpa Green.

GRANDPA GREEN: Good job! You ended the conflict! (shakes each kid's hand)

KID 1: Thank you, Grandpa Green!

KID 2: You are smart!

GRANDPA GREEN: It is always smart to end the conflict. Remember: First, listen.

Then, think how to end the conflict.

KID 1: Oh!

KID 2: What?

GRANDPA GREEN: You found your book!

KID 1: Yes! I was sitting on my book the whole time!

KID 2: Now, we both have books. We can both read to Grandpa Green.

GRANDPA GREEN: It is always good to read good books!

MEET THE GREENS: Conflict Resolution!

ADVANCED READERS ~ 5 Students

Parts:

GRANDPA (OR GRANDMA) GREEN

KID 1

KID 2

KID 3

KID 4

Reading the Play:

KID 1: Where is my reading book?

KID 2: I do not know. I have not seen it.

KID 3: I wonder where it is.

KID 4: I will help you look around the classroom.

KID 1: Is it on the reading table?

KID 2: No, it is not.

KID 3: Is it under the reading table?

KID 4: Maybe you dropped it. (Kids look under the table.)

GRANDPA GREEN: Hello!

KID 1: Hey! You are ALL GREEN!

KID 2: You are part of the Green Family!

GRANDPA GREEN: Yes! I am GRANDPA GREEN! (shakes each kid's hand)

KID 3: Why are you in the classroom?

KID 4: Why are you under the reading table?

GRANDPA GREEN: I am reading a good book!

KID 1: Is it my book?

KID 2: No, it is someone else's book. It is our friend Ed's book.

GRANDPA GREEN: Yes. See? "E – D." This book is Ed's book.

KID 3: I will give Ed his book!

KID 4: No, I will give Ed his book!

GRANDPA GREEN: Can you both give Ed his book together?

KID 1: No! I want to do it!

KID 2: No! I want to do it!

KID 3: I was first!

KID 4: That is not fair!

GRANDPA GREEN: Hmm. We have a conflict.

KID 2: What is a conflict?

GRANDPA GREEN: A conflict happens when we do not agree.

KID 1: We do not agree. That is true.

GRANDPA GREEN: It is good to end a conflict.

KID 3: How do we end a conflict?

GRANDPA GREEN: First, we listen to each other. What do you think?

KID 4: I want to give Ed the book.

KID 2: No, I want to give Ed the book.

GRANDPA GREEN: You all want to help Ed.

KID 1: Yes! I do want to help.

KID 3: Yes! I do want to help, too.

GRANDPA GREEN: Good. But, we need to think how we can end the conflict.

KID 4: I will give Ed his book. But you all come with me?

KID 2: I give Ed his book. You all stay here and read to Grandpa Green?

KID 1: Yes! We like that! That is fun. We will stay here and read to Grandpa Green.

GRANDPA GREEN: Good job! You ended the conflict! (shakes each kid's hand)

KID 3: Thank you, Grandpa Green!

KID 4: You are smart!

GRANDPA GREEN: It is always smart to end the conflict. Remember: First, listen.

Then, think how to end the conflict.

KID 1: Oh!

KID 2: What?

GRANDPA GREEN: You found your book!

KID 1: Yes! I was sitting on my book the whole time!

KID 3: Now, we all have books. We can all read to Grandpa Green.

KID 4: It is always good to read good books!

GRANDPA GREEN: And it is fun to read good books with friends!

MEET THE GREENS: Conflict Resolution!

ADVANCED READERS ~ 6 Students

Parts:

GRANDPA (OR GRANDMA) GREEN

KID 1

KID 2

KID 3

KID 4

KID 5

Reading the Play:

KID 1: Where is my reading book?

KID 2: I do not know. I have not seen it.

KID 3: I wonder where it is.

KID 4: I will help you look around the classroom.

KID 5: Is it on the reading table?

KID 2: No, it is not.

KID 3: Is it under the reading table?

KID 4: Maybe you dropped it. (Kids look under the table.)

GRANDPA GREEN: Hello!

KID 1: Hey! You are ALL GREEN!

KID 5: You are part of the Green Family!

GRANDPA GREEN: Yes! I am GRANDPA GREEN! (shakes each kid's hand)

KID 3: Why are you in the classroom?

KID 4: Why are you under the reading table?

GRANDPA GREEN: I am reading a good book!

KID 1: Is it my book?

KID 2: No, it is someone else's book. It is our friend Ed's book.

GRANDPA GREEN: Yes. See? "E – D." This book is Ed's book.

KID 5: I will give Ed his book!

KID 4: No, I will give Ed his book!

GRANDPA GREEN: Can you both give Ed his book together?

KID 1: No! I want to do it!

KID 2: No! I want to do it!

KID 3: I really want to do it!

KID 5: I called it first!

GRANDPA GREEN: Hmm. We have a conflict.

KID 2: What is a conflict?

GRANDPA GREEN: A conflict happens when we do not agree.

KID 1: We do not agree. That is true.

GRANDPA GREEN: It is good to end a conflict.

KID 3: How do we end a conflict?

GRANDPA GREEN: First, we listen to each other. What do you think?

KID 4: I want to give Ed the book.

KID 5: No, I want to give Ed the book.

GRANDPA GREEN: You all want to help Ed.

KID 1: Yes! I do want to help.

KID 3: Yes! I do want to help, too.

GRANDPA GREEN: Good. But, we need to think how we can end the conflict.

KID 4: I will give Ed his book. But you all come with me?

KID 2: I give Ed his book. You all stay here and read to Grandpa Green?

KID 5: Yes! We like that! That is fun. We will stay here and read to Grandpa Green.

GRANDPA GREEN: Good job! You ended the conflict! (shakes each kid's hand)

KID 3: Thank you, Grandpa Green!

KID 4: You are smart!

GRANDPA GREEN: It is always smart to end the conflict. Remember: First, listen.

Then, think how to end the conflict.

KID 1: Oh!

KID 2: What?

GRANDPA GREEN: You found your book!

KID 1: Yes! I was sitting on my book the whole time!

KID 5: Now, we all have books. We can all read to Grandpa Green.

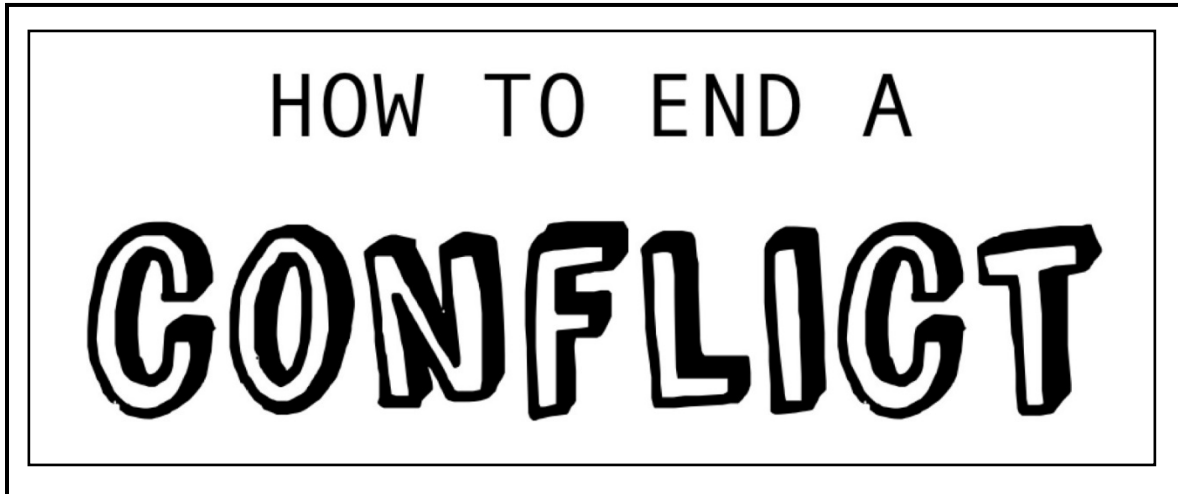

KID 4: It is always good to read good books!

KID 3: And it is fun to read good books with friends!

GRANDPA GREEN: I agree, friends!

Meet the Greens: CONFLICT RESOLUTION

Color the letters and pictures.

1.

LISTEN.

2.

THINK.

I help end the conflict when I _____ to others first,

then _____ how we can end the conflict together.

My name is : _____